F7 Flamenco

675494

The F7 is our entry-level flamenco model featuring the traditional combination of a solid European spruce top paired with cypress back and sides. It's a perfect fit for both beginner and intermediate flamenco players. Incredibly lightweight, the F7 is built in the Spanish tradition with a slightly thinner body depth than a classical guitar. Additionally, its flat neck angle gives this guitar low action, and the bright, snappy tone characteristic of flamenco guitars. A clear flamenco-style tap plate comes installed on the top for an added layer of protection and like all Córdoba guitars, the F7 includes a two-way truss rod inside the neck for action adjustment and long term stability.

F7 Paco Flamenco

675495

The F7 Paco offers a unique departure from traditional flamenco guitar tonewoods. In honor of Paco De Lucia's untimely passing in 2014, the F7 Paco's design was inspired by several well-known instruments that were mainstays in the legendary guitarist's collection. With its solid Canadian cedar top and Indian rosewood back and sides, the F7 Paco has a fuller, darker, less biting tone than the standard F7. Built in the Spanish tradition, it is incredibly lightweight, with a slightly thinner body depth than a classical guitar. A high gloss finish, maple binding, and a clear flamenco-style tap plate complete this homage to a flamenco great.

MASTER

Esteso Abete

675508

Domingo Esteso is considered one of the greatest Spanish luthiers of the 20th century, with a career that began in the 1890s, and continued through the 1930s. Created after extensive study of Domingo Esteso's guitars, the Luthier Select Esteso mirrors the light weight and responsive volume produced by the Spanish luthier's famous guitars. European Spruce top, hand carved spruce bracing works in conjunction with the premium quality top woods to recreate the immaculate, full tone synonymous with guitars built by Esteso himself. Solid Pau Ferro back and sides provide the tonal pallet of rosewood, but offer lighter weight and beautiful figure. Flamed Maple binding and a unique rosette with mother-of-pearl inlay, the kind of intricacy that was reserved for Esteso's top of the line instruments, compliment the rich coloring of the Pau Ferro.

Friederich Cedro

675509

Daniel Friederich was influenced by the legendary French luthier Robert Bouchet and has established himself as one of the most respected and influential luthiers in the world. Based out of France, Daniel Friederich made a name for himself with not only the silky, responsive tone of his instruments with powerful basses which project even in a large hall, but also with the graceful body shape and distinctive carved headstock adorning his guitars. The Luthier Select Friederich model salutes these construction methods, utilizing Friederich's seven fan bracing pattern with delicately, hand-carved spruce braces and a solid Canadian cedar top. Featuring elegantly grained solid rosewood back and sides with rosewood binding, the Friederich's understated beauty is made real with an intricate wood rosette and iconic carved headstock.

Torres

675510

The Córdoba Torres is the culmination of centuries of classical guitar making, largely inspired by the work of the great luthier Antonio de Torres but with modern design elements that make this guitar accessible to guitarists today. Original Torres guitars are known for their surprisingly huge sound, despite their small and lightweight frames. The Córdoba Torres carries on this legacy with its big voice and shortened scale length, and is based on a specific 1856 Torres with a 24.8" body size and 640mm scale length. Body Top: Solid Engelmann Spruce. Back and Sides Wood: Solid Indian Rosewood. Neck Material: Spanish Cedar. Bridge Material: Indian Rosewood. Fingerboard Material: Ebony. Headplate: Indian Rosewood. Finish: Nitrocellulose Lacquer. Complete with an included Deluxe Humidified Archtop wood case.

Rodriguez

675512

Handmade in a boutique workshop in California, the Córdoba Rodriguez combines three generations of tradition with features that bring this guitar into the modern era. Córdoba's Rodriguez is built with a solid Canadian cedar top, solid Indian rosewood back and sides and a fan bracing pattern with a transverse brace. This gives the guitar a distinctively "Spanish" sound—warm, lush and round, with bouncing basses and fat, singing trebles. It offers an instant responsiveness and a big, explosive attack at the beginning of every note.

GK Studio Limited

675525

The GK Studio Limited offers a new spin on Córdoba's ultimate gigging instrument. For a limited time only, the popular GK Studio will be available with striking ziricote back and sides. This highly-figured exotic wood has unique visual characteristics, while providing a rich, smooth sound that fills a room. Some flamenco players prefer exotic ziricote for a bassier and more robust tone in contrast to the bright, snappy sound of 'blanca' flamenco guitars which use cypress. However, any guitarist looking for a new tone will feel right at home. The GK Studio Limited has the same comfortable playability and low action as the GK Studio and like every Córdoba guitar, this model has a two-way truss rod built into the neck. Other premium features include a high gloss finish, clear flamenco-style tap plate, and Savarez strings.

FUSION

Fusion 5

675526

Córdoba's entry into the fusion line! The perfect choice to transition from a steel string to a nylon guitar, the Córdoba Fusion 5 features a solid spruce top, mahogany back and sides, a full body with cutaway for extended playing range, side dot fret position markers, and a pearl decal rosette and arches. The fusion neck with a 16" radius fretboard and smaller, 1 7/8" (48mm) nut width provides a playing experience very close to that of a steel string guitar. This familiarity offers an easy transition for steel string players and players with smaller hands to the world of nylon string guitar. Added side dot markers also depart from traditional nylon string guitar construction, providing players reference for their position on the fretboard. Equipped with the Fishman Sonitone Pickup System, the Fusion 5 is ready to plug in and play.

Fusion 12 Natural

675531

'The 12 Natural is our intermediate-level crossover guitar featuring a comfortable, slim steel-string style neck (48mm nut width) with 16" radius fingerboard. Choose from a solid Canadian cedar top or European spruce top paired with mahogany back and sides. As the name suggests, the 12 Natural has 12 frets to the body, allowing the bridge to sit further back on the soundboard, where resonance is optimized for a large sound with long sustain. Thoughtful finishing touches such as a hand inlaid wooden rosette, 3 ply maple and ebony top purfling, and high gloss polyurethane finish makes this Fusion model both beautiful and practical. Plug in and play with the built in Fishman Presys preamp.'

'The Orchestra CE is one of our best selling Fusion guitars. Available with a solid Canadian cedar top and rosewood back and sides, this model's main feature is its slim neck profile (48mm Nut width and 16" radius fingerboard) and only 12 frets to the body, which maximizes the amount of resonance and vibration across the soundboard. It's the perfect blend of classic Spanish designs with modern aesthetics—a hand-inlaid wooden rosette, elegant mahogany binding and a high gloss PU finish. Ready to plug in and play, the Orchestra CE comes equipped with the Fishman Presys Blend preamp.'

GK Pro Negra

675535

The GK Pro Negra is the ultimate gigging nylon string guitar for professional musicians. All-solid with a European spruce top and Indian rosewood back and sides, it comes equipped with a soft cutaway and Fishman PreFix ProBlend preamp. When compared to the blanca version (GK Pro), the Negra offers a darker, bassier tone. Constructed with a slightly thinner body depth, neck, and nut width than a traditional Spanish guitar, the GK Pro Negra is extremely comfortable & easy to play. The neck is designed to have little or no relief, offering low action and a flamenco-style buzz and its Spanish heel provides maximum resonance and projection. Comes in a Córdoba humidified archtop case.
